

Education

Education is learning through structured and systematic instruction in face-to-face training, workshops, online courses, webinars, seminars and more. Research suggests we forget about 75 per cent of any new information that isn't applied within a week.

- Help UN Volunteers identify the core technical and soft skills training they need for immediate and future success in their role.
- Provide opportunities to learn, apply and refine acquired knowledge and skills at work.
- Follow-up with feedback to facilitate reflection.
